The UK produces less than 1 per cent of global CO2 emissions, whereas China produces around 26 per cent. However, all nations that emit less than 1 per cent of global CO2 emissions add up to around 26 per cent.
Do you think countries who emit less than 1 per cent of global CO2 emissions should or should not continue trying to reduce their CO2 emissions?

[Asked to a randomly selected half of the sample; n=1045]
