As part of the reshuffle William Hague stepped down as Foreign Secretary and will carry out the more junior role of Leader of the Commons until he retires at the election.

Michael Gove has left the job of Education Secretary and become government Chief Whip.

Owen Paterson has left the job of Environment Secretary.

Taking everything into account, do you think William Hague did a good or bad job as Foreign Secretary?

Currently Britain is a signatory of the European Convention of Human Rights, meaning people can go to court if they feel their human rights have been abused and, ultimately, can take their case to you European Court of Human Rights. Some people think Britain should withdraw from the European Convention, while other people think we should remain a member.

Do you think Britain should or should not withdraw from the European Convention on Human Rights?
