So far the government have said that they have protected spending on the NHS, international development and schools. As a result, cuts in other government departments have had to be deeper in order to achieve the overall target for spending cuts.

Do you think it is right or wrong to protect spending on the NHS, if this means deeper cuts elsewhere?

Right - its budget should be protected	75	79	72	90	78	78	75	85	82	76	81	74	74	80	83	76	82	77	76	81	81	78

Currently the state pension rises each year in line with inflation, in line with wages or by 2.5%, whichever is the highest. This is known as the "triple lock"

David Cameron has said he will guarantee the triple lock for pensions until at least 2020. Do you think this is the right or wrong thing to do?

The minimum wage for people over the age of 21 is currently £6.31 an hour.

Some people think the minimum wage should be increased so low paid people are better off. Other people think that an increase in the minimum wage would risk increasing unemployment.

Would you support or oppose a substantial increase in the minimum wage?
