We would like to you think about state schools in Britain where the majority of the children come from Muslim families

Don't know

1- ------

Do you think it is acceptable for state schools in Britain with a majority of pupils from Muslim families to set rules that reflect their interpretation of Muslim religion or culture - such as requiring an Islamic dress code or segregating girls and boys in some lessons?

Is acceptable	7	6	10	11	1	4	8	8	7	7	10	11	5	4	6	7	10	7	4	7	7

Which of the following best reflects your view?
Governments should allow schools as much freedom as possible and let headteachers and school governors make decisions about what is best for their local area - even if this	11	11	11	9	7	9	12	8	11	10	16	14	10	6	10	12	10	12	8	11	12
means some schools make decisions that people don't agree with or are run by people with odd views Governments should limit the freedom given to individual schools to make sure they don't make decisions that are bad for children or are taken over by extremists - even if this	70	78	69	70	82	77	70	73	71	69	56	61	73	79	74	65	69	68	74	70	67
means good schools also have less freedom to innovate or experiment

Currently all criminal trials are open to the public and the media. The Courts are currently deciding whether to allow the criminal trial of two men accused of terrorist offences to take place in private and the evidence kept secret, as the authorities claim it could be a risk to national security if it was held in public.
