The European elections are held under a proportional voting system which gives smaller parties a better chance of winning seats than in general elections.

If there were an election to the European Parliament held tomorrow, which party would you vote for?

It has been reported that David Cameron is to announce that he will renegotiate Britain's relationship with Europe, seeking to bring back some powers to the UK. He will then hold a referendum asking people to choose between Britain staying in the EU under renegotiated terms or leaving the EU completely.

Which type of referendum do you think would be better?

Britain should renegotiate our relationship with Europe to get the best deal we can, and then hold a referendum on whether to approve the new relationship or leave totally 48

Britain should hold a referendum on whether to stay in the European Union as it is or leave totally, there is no need to negotiate
22

There should not be any sort of referendum on Europe

It is important that there is a proper debate over Britain's relationship with the European Union and now is the right time to deal with the issue

However important our relationship with the European Union is, now is not the right time to have a big debate over the issue
