Currently British citizens have the right to live and work in other EU countries and EU citizens have the right to come and live and work in Britain.

David Cameron has said he will seek to put limits on the right of EU citizens to live and work in Britain. In principle, do you support or oppose this aim?

Currently, the Government has the power to remove British citizenship from people who have dual nationality, or are 'naturalised' Britons - that is, immigrants who have lived in Britain long enough to acquire British nationality. Some people from Britain are fighting with Islamic State/ISIS. Should the Government remove British nationality from those who have dual nationality and/or have been naturalised?

Yes, the Government should remove their British citizenship

Fiona Woolf, a solicitor and current Lord Mayor of London, has been appointed as the new head of the inquiry into historic child sexual abuse and how the authorities handled it.

Mrs Woolf lives on the same road as Leon Brittan, a former Home Secretary, and has had dinner with him and his wife on several occasions. Mrs Woolf says the Brittans are not close friends, and she has not seen them socially in the last year.

Which of the following best reflects your view?

Mrs Woolf is an appropriate person to head the inquiry - her links with Leon Brittan are minor and almost any qualified figure will have some link to the establishment	31	48	23	46	23	44	22	33	32	29	26	28	31	33	36	23	33	34	31	25	29
Mrs Woolf is not an appropriate person to head the inquiry - whoever is chosen should have no links at all to senior establishment figures	43	30	52	32	57	36	54	44	46	40	38	37	46	47	41	46	37	42	44	45	52
