Since becoming Conservative leader in 2005 David Cameron has spoken of his support for "green policies" and said he wants his government to be the greenest ever

Currently part of people's energy bills is made up of a "green levy" to tackle climate change. According to Ofgem this makes up about 6% of gas bills and 11% of electricity bills. The money is spent on schemes encouraging renewable energy and on helping people reduce their energy bills (e.g. by offering insulation)

Which of the following best reflects your view?

This money should continue to be spent, and should continue to be funded by a levy on people's energy bills	15	13	18	31	4	11	14	23	17	14	29	23	13	5	20	9	17	15	15	14	18

In 2004 doctors contracts for GPs changed so that GPs no longer had the responsibility to provide out-of-hours services, and could instead opt-out and allow out-of-hours services for their surgery to be provided by external companies, contracted to the NHS.

Do you think it is right or wrong to allow GPs to opt-out of providing out-of-hours services?

Right - many individual doctors surgeries don't have the resources to provide a round the clock service and it is better provided by specialist companies

Wrong - there would be better out-of-hours services if they were the responsibility of GPs themselves, who know their patients and their needs
