We would now like you to think about essential and non-essential living costs and outgoings. In the event that you lost your job and your income was reduced, would you view each of the following items to be essential (those that you have to have) or non-essential (those that are nice to have but not needed)?

Please give one answer for each type of cost/ outgoing that you currently have, and for any that you don't have/ don't currently do (e.g. if you don't have any children or don't have a car etc.) please choose the "not applicable" option.
