Thinking about the rest of the gang of people responsible for the murder of Stephen Lawrence, which of the following best reflects your view?

There is still a realistic chance that more people could be prosecuted for the murder and the police should continue to actively pursue the rest of Stephen Lawrence's killers

65

After all this time there is no realistic chance of enough evidence emerging to prosecute the rest of Stephen Lawrence's Stephen Lawrence's killers and the police should close the case

As you may be aware it has been revealed that around 40,000 women in Britain have been given breast implants made by a French company, PIP, that were made using industrial grade silicon, rather than medical silicon.
