There is currently a debt crisis in the Eurozone (that is, countries that use the Euro, the European single currency), with some countries in the Eurozone unable to pay their debts without help. Unless they are given money by other European countries it is likely they would have to default on their debt payments, which would risk bringing down European banks and causing another economic crisis. Countries in Europe have agreed a plan for bailing out countries in difficulties and protecting European banks. The costs of trying to save the Eurozone may come to hundreds of billions of pounds

Shale gas is natural gas trapped under sedimentary rock, which is extracted using a method known as hydraulic fracturing, or "fracking". There are large reserves of shale gas in North West England.

Some people think that using shale gas could be a solution to Britain's energy needs. Other people think that fracking is a dangerous technique that risks contaminating ground water and causing minor earthquakes.

From what you have seen or heard about the issue, do you think shale gas is or is not a viable alternative source of gas?

Currently section five of the Public Order Act makes it an offence to use threatening, abusive or insulting words or behaviour in a public place. Some people are currently campaigning to have this law repealed as a limit on free speech. Other people think it should be kept.

From what you have seen or heard, do you think Section Five of the Public Order Act should or should not be repealed?

Which of the following statements best reflects your view?

As long as they are not violent or racist, in a free society people should be able to use words that other people might find offensive or insulting
